DIAVOLEZZA CHALLENGE

From this winter there will be a new attraction for ambitious ski tourers, the „Diavolezza Challenge“. This permanent route for ski tourers takes them from the Diavolezza valley station beside or off the piste right up to the top station, covering a vertical distance of about 890 metres. This ground-breaking project provides for the first time a safe and clearly marked way for ski tourers to train. These athletic visitors can hand in their bags at the valley station. When they reach their destination at the top of Diavolezza, their bags will be waiting for them in the mountain hut. Ski tourers are allowed to use the showers at the mountain hut on request (incl. towel and soap). Skiers can time themselves using the free Corvatsch Diavolezza Lagalb app. All users of the app are automatically entered in a competition with some great prizes. The ski touring route will also be open for training in the evening once a week.

«DIAVOLEZZA CHALLENGE» COMPETITION

The fastest wins: Track your ski tour for a chance to win some great prizes!

You can use the free Corvatsch Diavolezza Lagalb app to keep track of how long the challenge takes you. Here's how easy it is: download the app, register as a user, activate the tracker and off you go! You have to pass three checkpoints along the prescribed route. Your personal data is collected via GPS. When you reach the end, stop the tracker. Simply click on „End & Send“ to submit your data for automatic evaluation. For your training time to be included in the competition, the tracker must be activated from the start to the finish, and checkpoints 1 to 3 must be passed in order.

Prizes

- ◆ Weekly winner: The best time of the week wins a day pass for Diavolezza and Lagalb, to be redeemed during the following 2 weeks
- ◆ Monthly winner: The best performance of the month wins a voucher worth CHF 50 which is valid for the following six months
- ◆ Season's winner: The fastest time of the season wins a night's accommodation for two people at the Diavolezza mountain hut. Room category: Double Classic. To be redeemed during summer 2018.

NIGHT-TIME TRAINING: FRIDAY EVENINGS FROM 5 P.M. TO 9 P.M.
